Urgent Appeal For Blood Brings
20 Pints For Belle Glade Woman

"Thank God!" exclaimed Louise Woods when told that 20 pints of blood had been donated by Pratt & Whitney Aircraft. The 20 pints of blood were necessary before open heart surgery could be performed on this 33-year old Negro woman of 401 S. W. Ave. A Belle Glade.

The Heart Association made the appeal for blood last Friday as their own supply had been depleted. Pratt & Whitney donated the whole amount from their reserve account.

Louise's seriously defective heart was discovered only last year when she had a TB chest X-ray made. She was then referred to the Heart Clinic at the Belle Glade Memorial Hospital. From there our local doctors referred her to Mt. Sinai Hospital at Miami Beach for further evaluation. She is now waiting for the date of her open heart surgery to be set up through the Vocational Rehabilitation program. It is to be performed by a team of doctors at Jackson Memorial Hospital.

"It's the sitting around waiting that gets you," Louise remarked. "I'm not afraid. I believe I'm coming thru this. Lord help me."

Blood is still badly needed. Anyone who would like to donate blood for such life-saving emergencies contact the Palm Beach County Blood Bank at 435 15th Street West Palm Beach and credit it to the Heart Association account.

Everglades Federal Savings & Loan Celebrates 30th Anniversary

This week the Everglades Federal Savings & Loan Association, officers, directors and employees, were dressed in their "glad rags" serving refreshments, by Mrs. Edith Freedlund, and receiving congratulations on its unmatched growth since 1933 — from a meagre and short $2,500 to its present assets of $21 million.

In 1958, the Association celebrated its 25th Anniversary with assets of $11.2 million.

This month, the 13th, on the Thirtieth Anniversary, the EF Savings and Loan Association passed the $21 million mark, with the new home shown at the left, and with a branch in Pahokee.

The EF S & L has twenty-one employees and seven directors.

James A. Ball, Jr., is President and Richard A. Poston, Executive Vice President.

Robt. E. Mathews, Jr., Claude L. Shirley, Wm. B. Rhodes and Robt. Aepfgen are other Directors.

Mrs. Jane Evans Heads
Glades March of Dimes

Acceptance by a number of community leaders of key assignments in the January March of Dimes was announced this week by Dr. V. D. Stone, chairman of the Palm Beach County Chapter, The National Foundation.

Many of the volunteer leaders, Dr. Stone said, are members of the chapter's board of directors who are giving stepped up attention to the coming campaign.

The directors group includes Mrs. Jane E. Evans, Belle Glade, whose top responsibility will be coordination of the direct mail appeal throughout the Glades section.

The mailers, Mrs. Evans said, will be one of the principal fund raising efforts this year. Other activities will include the annual Mothers March the last week in January and distribution of coin collectors throughout the county.

Funds raised during the March of Dimes will be used to help fight birth defects and arthritis and to continue the care of long term polio patients.

Mrs. Evans noted that great strides have already been made in the five years since the March of Dimes first directed its attention against two major health problems, following the victory over polio.

The March of Dimes operates more than 70 treatment centers for care and study of birth defects and for aid of arthritis victims. In addition, $4 million in March of Dimes grants now support scientific research programs aimed at control of birth defects and arthritis.

"The American people," Mrs. Evans said, "have come to expect success from the March of Dimes. Their continued support this January will make possible even greater victories over disease and disability."

What About Worship?

All systems of religion have some form of worship. It does not seem possible to keep any religion alive without a stated place where people come to worship, or, at least, stated times for people to meet for worship. Religion needs the fellowship or kindred worshippers. People do not need the Bible to make them religious; they are religious where they have never heard of the Bible. But they do need the Bible to teach them the right kind of religion. Neither do men need the Bible to cause them to worship, for heathen lands are full of worshippers. But we do need the Bible to teach us whom to worship and how to worship.

You are cordially invited to worship with the Belle Glade Church of Christ which meets at 125 N. W. Avenue D.

gence and proper appreciation for its significance." Mr. Saia stated that failure to carry out such a dedication vow of men meant death and cited Eccl. 5: 4, 5 as his Bible reference. Mr. Saia added: "Baptism serves both as a public confession of one's dedication and as a sign of one's being an ordained minister." Jehovah's Witnesses now have more than one million preachers preaching in 194 lands. Their main publication, the Watchtower, is printed in over 4 million copies per month on a bi-monthly basis.

Highlight of the assembly was keynote speech Sunday afternoon by Mr. Saia on the subject, "THE BIBLE TRIUMPHS IN A SCIENTIFIC WORLD." Mr. Crum, spokesman for the Belle Glade group of Jehovah's Witnesses, quoted Saia as saying, "Recent archeological discoveries and scientific advancements have proven the Bible account to be true concerning the origin of man, the historical account of his movements and culture, and the creative accomplishments of God." As an example, Mr. Saia cited the fact that scientists now admit that the geographic locations of man's origin is indeed where the Bible said it was, in the area of the Tigris and Euphrates rivers. Mr. Crum added that Mr. Saia said, "Bible theories contrary to the Bible are the result of pride, egotism, selfishness and the desire to be independent of God and his laws and to pursue harmful desires. The Bible furnishes the true source of man's hope."

Mr. Crum said that he and the other members of the Belle Glade congregation had enjoyed their Christian fellowship and benefited by the ministerial training they had received. Many points of interest will be passed on to the local residents through home Bible studies conducted by the Witnesses and meetings in their local Kingdom Hall, Mr. Crum said. "Visitors are always welcome and no collections are ever taken."

Wonderful Story Of Love

By Ron Halbrook

"Now the birth of Jesus Christ was on this wise: Thus began Matt. 1:18 and the unfolding of the plan of salvation. The remaining verses in this chapter and the first 14 verses of the next chapter tell of the coming of the Christ.

Joseph was told concerning the virgin Mary who was with child, "for that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost. And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name JESUS: for he shall save his people from their sins." (Matt. 1:20-21). As was prophesied, "Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the King" wise men from the east came to worship the babe and a multitude of heavenly host praised God at the Savior's birth (Luke 2:1-20). The Son of God was raised in Nazareth by Mary and Joseph and was subject unto them. "And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man." (Lk. 2:51-52)

Later, we find that Jesus taught daily in the temples and synagogues of the Jews trying to bring the lost sheep of Israel back to the fold. But their heart's were hardened: "He came unto his own, and his own received him not" (John 1:11). They rejected him and manufactured false charges against him demanding his death. He was spit upon, ridiculed, threatened, and cruelly crucified: "He was led as a sheep to the slaughter; and like a lamb dumb before his shearer, he opened not his mouth;" (Acts 8:32).

From I John 1:8 we see that we all have sinned (unless God is a liar); Christ "was in all points tempted like as we are, yet WITHOUT SIN." (Heb. 4:15) Christ died that we might be reconciled to God, "and the blood of Christ cleanse us from all sin" if we will obey him (1 Jn. 1:7).

This is the Wonderful Story of Love! And Christ said, "If ye love me, keep my commandments: that whosoever loves me shall love my Father that sent me, and shall continue in my love, and the Father's love shall be in him, and we will come unto him, and will make our abode with him." (John 14:21-23). "How shall we escape if we neglect so great a salvation?"

On the holy night, the Christ child was born to an unknown carpenter and his wife in Bethlehem.

No palace physician attended the Prince of Peace — perhaps a midwife or a serving maid.

No fine linens were prepared for the mother; no crib for the babe — just the straw and the manger were theirs.

No royal salute was fired to announce His arrival — only the braying of the animals in their stalls was heard.

Never was royalty greeted with less pomp and circumstance. Why? Because man could not raise himself to God!

So God sent His Son to light up our hearts and minds with His Divine Presence.

His living Spirit brightened the most ordinary and commonplace tasks of the day.

If He could so hallow that stable, can He not hallow our homes, our places of work, the whole of our lives?

Of course! Consider again and again the miracle of His birth. Be in church on Christmas to welcome anew the Christ child in your heart.

Spiritual Healing

Thought Regeneration Cures The Body Scientist Lecturer Tells Audience

Real spiritual healing is the result of a "moral regeneration" said a Christian Science lecturer in Belle Glade on Sunday.

"It cures the body by regenerating the thought," said the speaker. Florence C. Southwell, who has lectured throughout the United States and Canada as a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, the talk was sponsored here by First Church of Christ, Scientist and presented in Church edifice.

The power that brings about spiritual healing, the lecturer said, is "the heaven of the Christ at work in human consciousness."

"This power is now at work in the lives of men everywhere," she told the audience. It is "a power greater than materiality, greater than the forces of war and destructive, of hatred and animosity. It is leading us to a time of great adventure for mankind in many directions."

"Concepts are changing," Mrs. Southwell noted. "Human thought is expanding and finding new freedom."

"One of the most encouraging signs is the breakthrough in the field of theology. Less limited views of God and man are being accepted and many churches are looking earnestly into the way of spiritual healing."

The lecturer referred to real spiritual healing as "The Christ Way."

"It is only when we are governed by God that divine healing can take place," she declared. "We must learn to pray as Jesus did — from the spiritual standpoint of God as the only power, the one cause."

"She said that this kind of thinking is both 'spiritual and scientific,' based on spiritual law and the supremacy of God. The healings of Jesus were proof of this, she asserted. He was 'demonstrating Christianity as Science.'"

This Science is "universal and ageless," she added. "The power of God over evil is an ever-

2 Wins, 1 Loss For Golden Rams In Basketball

Basketball season has gotten under way again and after one week of play the Belle Glade Golden Rams have gathered two wins and one loss. The wins were against Stuart and Moore Haven with the sole loss against Palm Beach High, one of the preseason favorites for the Suncoast Conference championship. In the opener against Palm Beach, scoring was led by senior forward Eddie Buckner who totaled 23 points against a much taller Palm Beach team. On Friday night the Rams returned to the home gym where they defeated the Stuart Tigers in a game that was close down into the final quarter. In this game two sophomores led the scoring with Tony Latour, a 6' 2" guard getting 26 on some nice driving lay-ups and Carey Jones, a 6' 2" forward getting 14 along with a good number of rebounds. Saturday night, a gain in the home gym, the Rams defeated Moore Haven 66-46 in a good come-back effort after trailing by two at halftime. Again Jones and Latour led the way with Jones getting 15 and helping the Rams pull away in the third quarter and Latour getting 13.

In these three games noticeable improvement has been seen and it is felt that this can develop into a good team, despite the lack of height and the number of low classmen who must be counted on in key spots. The team is marked by hustle and good shooters, any of whom can be high scorers on a good night.

The starting team has varied so far during the season with depth being another of the team's assets. Along with the two sophomores who start, Latour and Jones, the remainder of the team includes junior Jimmy Johnson, who at 6' 2" and 190 lbs. is a consistently good rebounder.

Senior Charles Wilkinson, a good hustling defensive guard who is also developing into a dependable scorer, and senior John Jones, the team captain who is a steady ball-handler, rebounder and scorer, Eddie Buckner, the co-scorer, and Big Cypress Baptist Church furnished special music for the evening.

Association Music Director, and Vice Moderator, Rev. James A. Fenton was in charge of the Association Carol Sing. All members of the Big Lake Baptist Church were represented at the Rally.

So Others May Eat

The Christmas shopping season is at its peak, with a wealth of gifts for our selection. As we go about the happy task of remembering those dear to us, CARE asks us also to remember those who have nothing — the millions of people across the world who do not even have enough to eat.

Through its Food Crusade campaign, CARE appeals to Americans to send 6,000,000 packages, at $1 per package, to the needy and desolate in four continents. Foods are mainly U. S. donations of farm abundance. Combined with "partnership" programs whereby local governments pay distribution costs, the packages will complete a year-long CARE plan to help feed more than 35,000,000 persons in 33 countries of Africa, Asia, Europe, Latin America, long after the holidays have passed, the gifts will be used in ways to nourish the hungry, give them health and energy to help themselves to a better life.

Every package is a personal expression of brotherhood, presented with the name and address of the donors who send their dollars to: CARE Food Crusade, New York, N. Y. 10016. No matter what language men speak, America's prayers for peace on Earth are quickly understood when we give food so others may eat — through our kindness, for the present by their own efforts, in the years ahead.

Donations may be made to the nearest office in Atlanta, Ga., 312 Forsyth Bldg. 30303.

It comes to us as "an awakening to our real self as the child of God." It puts life "on a new basis — a more spiritual basis." And the result is healing that transforms and regenerates human tendencies of material thinking," she said.

"We stop cherishing error, or believing in it, or serving it. We no longer believe it is a part of ourselves."

She gave several examples of spiritual healing, including the case of one man diagnosed as having a serious internal tumor. A complete healing came about entirely through prayer, she said, and described it as an awakening to "spiritual being." The man's "thought was regenerated by this knowledge, and as a result his body was freed from the imposition of disease."

This kind of healing is the basic answer to all the problems of the world, the lecturer declared. She called it the universal way of "individual spiritual awakening and redemption."

Conner Announces Candidacy

Florida Commissioner of Agriculture today announced that he would be a candidate for re-election in 1964. He cited his record in office as his platform.

Conner pointed out there had been significant developments in the fields of agriculture and consumer protection during his first three years in office, and that the Department of Agriculture had been modernized to reduce costs of operation.

Since 1960, the Department has carried on successful eradication programs against screwworms and the Mediterranean fruit fly, Conner said. "We have also initiated programs to combat hog cholera, Mexican fruit flies and fire ants."

Conner pointed out that he had also led a successful fight for equitable taxation of Florida farmland, and had created a marketing division within the Department to provide assistance to growers in marketing their products.

"Although there has been lit-the consumer, we have strengthened and consolidated a number of major inspection services," he said.

"By tightening and strictly enforcing regulations we have been able to halt the sale of unsafe foods, curtail the use of unsafe pesticides and improve standards in all other areas under our jurisdiction," Conner stated.

A veteran office holder, Conner was first elected to the Florida House of Representatives at the age of 21, while a student at the University of Florida.

He served five terms, and was elected Speaker of the House in 1955. He was named one of the Ten Outstanding Young Men in the Nation in 1960 by the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce, and served as both state and national president of Future Farmers of America when in school.

FPCA Officials Improve Know-How

Case materials, group discussions, and decision-making problems offered an opportunity for the exchange of ideas and practice in the practical application of the principles, skills, and tools of management, Mr. Long said.

According to Mr. Long, the program topics include: (1) Introduction to general management, (2) Why study management, (3) The changing requirements of management, (4) Principles of planning, (5) Dealing with the public, (6) Selling production credit association personnel, (7) Decision-making which affects farmers, and (8) Influencing management decisions.

The Farmers Association make short and intermediate-term loans to farmers in Broward, Collier, Dade, Indian River, Martin, Monroe, Okeechobee, Palm Beach and St. Lucie Counties, with principal office in Miami and field offices in Belle Glade and Vero Beach.

Rams Captains Presented Undefeated Award For '63

Ram football captains Charles Thompson, Roy Hayes and Johnny Dell received the "Undefeated Suncoast Conference Champions 1963" award (left) for the Rams team. The presentation was made at school assembly last week by Belle Glade High School principal Pello Morris who is this year's president of the Suncoast Conference. Pictured are last year's award for an undefeated team and center, the Bill Young Memorial trophy which the Rams retained again this year.

Wise Management Helps Ease Holiday Frustrations

If the prospects of the coming holidays seem overwhelming, Miss Mary Todd, County Home Demonstration Agent, suggests you take a new look at your management practices.

One way to make ends meet without unnecessary frustration is to get organized ahead of time. Think ahead and put plans on paper. Seeing clearly what has to be done takes the pressure off and helps get the jobs done. Remember, daily plans call for more detail than do plans for the week.

Miss Todd says several other ways to cope with holiday demands are:

Prepare food, whether for family meals or entertaining, ahead of the peak rush. Take advantage of the home freezer or freezing compartment in the refrigerator to put aside cookies, pies, casseroles and other dishes.

It may be that you can make two sets of one food or dish, one to eat immediately and one to freeze for later use. This doubling-up also decreases the time and energy needed to prepare food at the last minute.

Use as many time-saving shortcuts as possible. Here are just a few examples:

Serve simple meals. Save more elaborate ones for after the holidays. However, meals needn't be dull because they are simple. Such things as herb-battered crumbs and new combinations of vegetables vary foods without adding to preparation time.

Other ideas given by Miss Todd for simplifying meals are to serve baked potatoes instead of mashed, lettuce wedges instead of tossed salad and fresh or canned fruit instead of prepared desserts. Or try oven meals or boiled dinners that require a minimum of attention during cooking.

Encourage children to take added responsibility for tasks for their own personal pleasure.

County Welfare Rolls

6,784 for $206,696
Reverend Paul M. Cassen, Chairman of District 10 Welfare Board of the State Department of Public Welfare, reported that in Palm Beach County 6,784 persons were assisted in the four categories of public assistance for the month of November, 1963.

A total of 2,007 persons received Old Age Assistance in the amount of $96,267. 113 persons received Aid to the Blind, totaling $6,665. 1,083 families representing 3,345 children, received Aid to Dependent Children in the amount of $45,941. 441 persons received Aid to the Disabled in the amount of $22,983.

In addition 429 children received service during the month. 228 of whom were in foster homes. The total state and local cost for these child welfare services was $13,741.86.

There were 7 adoption petitions studied for the Circuit Court. These are children placed in homes independent of service through a licensed child placing agency, and the Welfare Board is responsible according to law to make these reports to the court. The Glades is represented on the District Ten Welfare Board by Mrs. M. H. Bloess, Palatka.

and for doing routine chores.

A further aid to time management may be to change your standards. If you usually use washable table linens, try plastic or paper place mats, paper napkins and perhaps even paper plates. Accept graciously other changes in standards, such as a less frequently cleaned house and more than usual clutter. Don't do the task better than it needs to be done.

Finally, Miss Todd says, take time to rest. Hurrying to "save time" and getting too tired reduces efficiency, contributes to home accidents and more the necessary wear and tear that can obscure the true meaning of the season.

Remember, the aim of good management of time and energy at holiday time is to reduce un-Christmas spirit.

The College Building Amendment on the Nov. 5 ballot would permit the state of Florida to borrow funds for university and junior college construction.

Mrs. Lois Sasser Winner Of Hi Mom Christmas Contest

"Hi Mom!" those words were heard by Mrs. Lois Sasser winner of the Hi Mom contest, who enjoyed a five minute call last Sunday to her son A. J. Joseph Calvin Roberts, stationed at Manila in the Philippine Islands.

Mrs. Sasser, who resides at 142 N. E. First St., Belle Glade was so happy and thrilled when she received word that she would be able to talk in person for five minutes to her son during the Christmas holidays. Each year some Mom in this area is made very happy by these calls sponsored by Telephone Company's employee's Union CWA 3112. Contact arrangements were handled by U. S. O.

Mrs. Sasser, could not call her son Christmas day as he is in the Air Force Band and will be on tour in Korea and other islands during Xmas. Last year he was with the Bob Hope tour.

So arrangements were made for the call to go through at 7 o'clock Sunday a. m. and the whole family waited nearly all day for the call. At 7 Sunday night the call came through and her son said those magic words: "Hi Mom!" Mrs. Sasser said he was "tickled to death" to hear her voice. They talked about Xmas and when he would be coming home, and about everything.

SPORTS Basketball

The Suncoast Conference's basketball race has jumped off to a hot start with defending champion Forest Hill already once, beaten and four schools within 15 miles of each other tied for first place with two victories a piece.

But two more five game cards this week will lessen that jam at the top at least 50 percent when the four collide in a pair of featured games on Thursdays.

year, two of them for required subjects leading to a diploma and three for work experience and related study in the DCT program.

The program is unique on two counts. First, the school utilizes the training facilities and personnel of local business and industry at no cost to the school system. Second, employers utilize school facilities and personnel to round out the training of their future employees—at no extra cost to them. And a common objective of both the school and the employers of the community is to provide effective job training for the large percentage of boys and girls whose formal education ends with high school graduation.

These boys and girls make up an important part of our future labor market.

TO THE STUDENT. DCT offers the opportunity:

To develop salable skills thru training and work experience in an actual business establishment in his own community while completing his high school education.

To make a gradual transition from school to employment.

To establish desirable work habits and attitudes.

To learn to work harmoniously with others, both employers and other employees, during the years when he is best able to make personality adjustments.

To lay the foundation for future economic security.

To discover and develop his interests, latent aptitudes, and abilities both through training on the job through club activities that are an important part of the total program.

To participate in activities designed to develop good leadership and fellowship in school, business, and civic life.

After this week the teams are out of action except for some holiday tournaments until Jan. 3.

Prosthetic Appliances Available To Veterans

Melvin T. Dixon, Director of the Florida Department of Veterans Affairs, advises that the 87th Congress added a new section to VA Regulations by providing for the repair or replacement of a prosthetic or similar appliance (Dental appliances excepted). The appliance must be reasonably necessary to the veteran and must have been damaged through a fall or other accident caused by a compensable service connected disability.

It is not necessary, Dixon said, that the appliance be secured for service connected disability, nor that it was originally furnished by the Veterans Administration. The only requirement is that the damage to the appliance must have been caused by a fall or accident due to a service connected disability for which the veteran is drawing compensation, or would be except the receipt of retirement pay from the Service Department.

Manufacturing Adds $2 Billion Value

Products made in Florida manufacturing plants last year contributed to the economy of the state, the state said yesterday in its 1963 report by the U. S. Bureau of the Census. This gain ranked the state third and ahead of all large states. Two small western states were out in front with larger rates of increase, and the national average gain was 27 percent during the four-year interval.

"Payrolls of Florida manufacturing plants came to $1,936,000,000 last year, up 52 percent from 1958. This payroll total represented a little more than half the value-added figure, showing an up-grading of salaries in the state.

"Florida's rank in the gain in payrolls was also third and the national increase was 21 percent over 1958."

"In 1958, Florida ranked 23th in both total value-added and in manufacturing plant payrolls. During the following four years, the state moved up three steps and by 1962 was in 22nd place in both of these categories."

Agriculture, as practiced in these United States, has become a science; it is a business; it is a profession—it's a professional scientific business.

It is not a dependent of Pap. Where Pap has been introduced, anemia is evident, and cancerous pockets of stitits and "gimme" bring terminal conditions to the particular agricultural endeavor.

The USDA says that 92 percent of America's workers are busy with other than agricultural efforts. Yet, we are the best fed people of the earth. Agriculture is big business; a half million dollars in equipment.

more than $64 million annually. Sweet corn, celery and tomatoes account for about $25 million of this; radish, Irish potatoes, and the potpourri of salad vegetables added to the list items help to make up the balance.

Dairy products of the county ring the till for a handsome figure ($8,000,000) near the top in southern counties of the US. Poultry supplements the dairy tables of Palm Beach County folks, substantially.

Citrus is no mean contributor to the County's income.

Cut flowers, tropical shrubbery and landscapers items are among the professional producers of the county.

Sugar, the county's greatest overall dollar investment and payroll producer among industry, has activated the thinking and planning for expansion of agro-industry through users and complementary operations such as refinery, liquid sugar, candy manufacturers, and canner.

To provide for the mills existing and already assured, approximately 175,000 acres of land will be used for sugarcane. A modest value of $75 to $100 million may be put on this land.

The mills themselves would be appraised at a value of $100 million; $15 million will about furnish the field and harvest equipment.

$22.5 million for planting this crop is not a modest item in financing.

An annual payroll of $24.5 million, with an equivalent amount spent in the community for supplies etc., is a dream seldom indulged in by industrial and/or 100 committees through out the land.

Add the sugarcane payroll to the vegetable payroll, estimated at $24 million, and we have near $50 million annual payroll from agriculture, in Palm Beach County.

This agricultural activity, within an hour's ride of where we sit tonight, with its monumental economic background and the daily table needs included suggests the question: Where will a youngster find more potential for employment of his educated professional skill, be the butcher, baker, doctor, lawyer, accountant, attorney, or candle-stick maker?

Foods Essential Part Of Christmas

Christmas means goose, chestnuts and pudding to some. To others it may mean turkey, pecan pie and cranberries. But whatever the case, foods will play a major part in our holiday season. Perhaps no other season quite equals Christmas in demonstrating our abundant agriculture.

Our tables may abound in Florida oranges, Massachusetts cranberries Louisiana sweet potatoes, Wisconsin cheese and Washington apples. Nowhere else in the world will families sit down to such a large abundance and variety of foods. What has made this abundance possible? The answer is a complex one. It involves the willingness of our producers, the initiative of our agricultural products and their demand for better ones, the industriousness of our agricultural industries and the dedicated effort of our government agencies.

Research by the Agricultural Experiment Stations has served a major role in aiding our agricultural industry to produce high quality foods. The development of new methods in food processing, improved crop varieties, highly developed animals, and modern marketing techniques are all the result of intensive research. Without research, our food would cost us more, our selection would be limited and the quality poor.

Current research by the University of Florida's Agricultural Experiment Stations points out the constant effort of scientists to improve agricultural product for the consumer.

Food technologists are conducting studies with irradiation to kill microorganisms causing spoilage. Specialists in plant breeding are striving to develop new improved crop varieties. Intensive plant breeding work is being done with tomatoes, peppers, strawberries, watermelons, corn and many other crops.

Animal nutritionists are studying the digestion of animals for efficiency in feeding while agricultural engineers are working toward the development of an orange harvesting machine and other labor-saving devices.

Forestry scientists are striving to develop a Christmas tree for Florida that would provide an added boost for the state's economy.

Freeze protection and the control of cattle and horse diseases are other major areas of intensive research. Research expenditures of the United States Department of Agriculture's research services and the state agricultural experiment stations are less than one tenth of those of business and industry, yet agricultural research points with pride to its accomplishments in year-round availability in certain foods.

As the population grows, continued research will be essential to give everyone an abundant and nutritious supply of food. Through research our agricultural industries will remain the most productive in the world and the nation's Christmas tables will continue to be the most abundant in the world.

Billions of dollars are lost each year in the beef cattle industry due to deaths and illnesses of cattle and calves, a University of Florida animal scientist reports.

Dr. James Hentges, nutrition-experiment stations, says that in some areas of Florida the average death loss among calves has been estimated as high as 3.7 percent.

Prevention of these losses, he says, requires alert ranch management with a well-planned herd health program.

For a beef cattle ranch to operate in the "black," the animal scientist stresses, "85 percent or more of the cows must weigh a big calf every year and give birth to another healthy one."

To achieve this type of efficiency, Dr. Hentges states the ranch manager should have a herd health program planned one year in advance listing the jobs to be done on a month-by-month basis. In addition, he should obtain the services of a veterinarian on an annual basis and readily accept the professional help of other specialists when needed.

A good herd health program on most cow-calf operations can be summarized in eight general practices. The Agricultural Experiment Stations scientist lists them as follows:

1. Minimize the possibility of bringing diseases to your ranch by purchasing as few cattle as possible. A "closed" cow herd is a recommended animal breeding practice; consequently, purchases can be limited to bulls. A health certificate and breeding soundness guarantee must be demanded for every bull purchased.
2. Maintain an "isolation pasture" where purchased cattle can be kept for 60 days for observation before they are added to the herd.
3. Provide corals and working pens equipped with squeeze chutes and loading chutes to permit fast handling of any emergency.
4. Keep handling of cattle in corals to a minimum—perhaps three times a year for marking, weaning, blood testing, vaccinating and examining for pregnancy.
5. Prevent accidental deaths.
6. Ground fences. Keep cattle away from fertilizer, lead paints, lubricants, preservatives for fence posts and other chemicals.
7. Have a veterinarian diagnose the cause of every unexplained death—then eliminate the cause. Bury or burn the dead animals.
8. Continually check management and feeding practices to be sure cattle are in good condition and comfortable. Stress should be minimized by working cattle in the coolest hours and affording access to shade, fresh water, back rubbers and mineral boxes.
9. See the cattle often and treat immediately any case of lameness, eye inflammation, scours, etc. If possible, isolate sick animals from the rest of the herd.
10. Don't become confident that your ranch manager know more about animal health than the professional consultants. Every new year in the future of an already complex business will bring newly developed insecticides, weed killers and feed additives as well as newly introduced diseases. To survive, every individual ranch will have to be managed by an administrator who has an open mind, an eye to the future, the ability to take advice from consultants, and above all the "drive" to see his advance planning put into action.

Living With Your Heart

One of the most heart-rending responsibilities facing a parent comes when a child must be told he is going to a hospital for surgery or other major medical treatment.

How much — or how little — to tell? How to go about it? Answers to these questions, which have plagued parents for generations, are suggested by the Heart Association of Palm Beach and Martin Counties.

In most cases, a child going to the hospital should be told the truth, or at least part of the truth. Usually it's less frightening than what his active imagination can invent. This won't eliminate his fears entirely, but it will be a big help in facing them.

It's vital, too, to keep an optimistic, calm outlook yourself. The child's morale usually reflects your own outlook. Sympathy without tears, honest explanation of his illness and what must be done to make him well will help him develop a sound health attitude.

Don't tell your youngster every detail, only what he can understand at his age and as much as is necessary to prepare him for the immediate future. This will insure that he won't be shocked, or feel he has been tricked by his parents and doctors.

When he goes to the hospital, especially if he is very young and has never been away from home, he may fear he is being deserted or punished for being naughty, and that he will be hurt in some way he can't comprehend. It is a major parental responsibility to convince the child this is not so.

Before he arrives at the hos-

Load all these people in your car, and give them a lift to the Library. Amazing how many don't know where it is. Once there, card in hand, the holder has a wealth of reading and information at his fingertips.

For example: For Stylish Sis — THE SINGER SEWING MACHINE BOOK, 960,000 printings since 1949 indicate what seamstresses think of this one. There is an illustrated answer to any sewing question she may have.

For Pop — (an Ex-Marine) — Eugene Burdick's THE BLUE OF CAPRICORN Bits and bits. He should be prepared for the time when the parent will not be there. If surgery is in the offing, it should be explained to him, including the administration of anesthetic and in a restrained way, the discomfort that may follow the operation. Otherwise the youngster may panic when he is alone and facing the unknown, and he may lose faith in his family at a critical period.

In any explanation, always stress the positive side. Let him realize that although he is ill, a way has been found to make him well. He should know that doctors and nurses are his friends and whatever they do, they must, in order to help him.

He must be told that if tests or surgery are needed, it is because he is loved and there are the way back to health. Also explain that he won't feel a thing during the operation. Tell him that though you want him at home, he will improve faster in the hospital and — never fail to visit him when you have promised to.

Each Floridian Owes $379 State Debt

The debt of the state of Florida and of all local governments within the state stood at a combined total of $2.1 billion at the end of last year, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reported yesterday in its Weekly Business Review.

"This state-local debt includes all types of indebtedness owed by any state agency plus all county, district and municipal obligations. Last year's total was 10 per cent over 1961 compared with a national gain of 6 per cent," the Review pointed out.

"On a per capita basis, the debt total was $379 for every Floridian. Twenty other states have higher amounts and the comparable national average was $436 last year. Both the Florida and the national average were up about 6 per cent."

"The Florida total includes

$30,700,000 local government short-term debt; $1,617,000,000 local long-term debt and $412,400,000 state long-term debt. Long-term obligations are non-payable solely from pledged earnings of specific projects or from special assessments.

"Balanced against the debt total in the state was $151,500,000, at year's end, being held for future debt payment."

"Interest paid on all state-local debt last year totaled $70,700,000 up 12 per cent over 1961. The national gain was 9 per cent."

By 1970 Florida will have an estimated 318,000 students enrolled in public and private institutions of higher learning. Total enrollment in 1962 was

Christmas Togetherness

Christmas is a time for family sharing - for family togetherness.

Miss Mary Todd, County Home Demonstration Agent, says trimming the tree together, making gifts - wrapping Gifts - just reading together or singing together makes for family unity and enjoyment.

Traditional patterns for some families get confused with moving from place to place and with separation or certain family members. Often new families have to build new Christmas traditions from the backgrounds of each parental influence.

Establishment of holiday patterns which are repeated year after year provides for strong family unity.

Selection of gifts, especially those for children, provides pleasure long after the holiday season has passed. Miss Todd says a few carefully chosen, sturdy, simple toys are better than a number which are broken at the end of Christmas Day. Broken toys are very frustrating to children.

Parents are able to provide for a child's imaginative play through careful selection of

Building Progresses On Wee Care Industry

CHICAGO 40

The construction of Wee Care building is progressing to the point of installation of doors and windows, and interior finish.

Progress of the day nursery building was reviewed at the December 11, meeting of the Board of Directors of Wee Care, Inc.

Labor costs to date total $2,985.93. Of this amount $1,009.42 was donated in labor by local negro citizens and members of the masonry class at Lake Shore High School. Supervisory donations are considerable and not included in this figure.

Treasurer R. S. Burr reported bill for material have been paid on time and discounts taken, but more money will be needed if this procedure is to continue.

Miss Sara Creech reported that the roof joists are being installed now.

Members of the finance committee, Mrs. Ruth Widenworth, Mrs. James Oliver, G. L. Royal and W. C. Taylor, reported gifts received and several pledges which will enable payment of this expensive step in the construction. The Ft. Lauderdale company furnishing the T joint and excelsior have offered a greater than usual discount for cash.

The Committee on Administration is being activated and a Committee on Furnishings is being formed. Announcements relative to each of these will be made at a later date.

Festive Foods Add To Holiday Season

Christmas is just around the corner, and with it comes the yule log burning in the fireplace, the decorated tree and the circle of warm friends who call and call.

It's a time, too, when food means much more than mere nourishment. For some families, festive foods are part of the tradition that is handed down from generation to generation. For friends, food is the most sure-fire way you can say "Welcome."

Here are a few suggestions given by Miss Mary Todd, local Home Demonstration Agent, to help you roll out the welcome mat with more ease.

Plan ahead, before the holiday time — when and how you will entertain.

Have your party or invite your friends in when your decoration are the prettiest.

Anticipate how many friends you will have for "pop-calls." Decide on what kind of food you will serve.

Estimate how much food you will need to serve invited guests, "pop-calls" and your family.

Include food that will be quick and easy to prepare and easy to prepare and serve.

Serve food that stores and freezes well so you can prepare it before the holidays begin.

To serve the "pop-calls" in a hurry and without too much effort, have a tray ready with dishes needed for serving four to six people.

Keep a beverage ready or the ingredients handy so you can prepare it in a hurry.

Baked goodies also make nice Christmas gifts. For example make some cookies and the pan they were baked in as a gift. This makes a "two-in-one" gift.

Rogers aids WritingAir Pollution Bill Ready For Signing

Congress adopted H. R. 6518, the Clean Air Act which is a federal air pollution control program. This program was developed to combat the growing problem of air pollution that is rapidly becoming a national health problem. Congressman Paul C. Rogers, a Member of the House Health and Safety Subcommittee, helped write this legislation and strongly supported its passage in the House of Representatives.

Rogers said, "Air pollution costs some $11 billion a year in damages, which include damage to crops, animals, and human beings as well, and it is estimated by the U. S. Public Health Service that by 1970 two-thirds of our population will be breathing only the air over 10 percent of our land mass today to our population density. Certainly if we do not take steps to purify the air, then the incidence of diseases and damage caused by air pollution will rapidly become a grave national health problem."

The Florida Congressman continued, "The Clean Air Bill is a carefully thought-out and researched program to combat the problem of air pollution. The Conference Committee was able to agree for all practical purposes to a 3-year $95 million program that is 2 years shorter and $87 million less than the original Senate proposal of $182 million. We members of the Conference Committee feel that we can make an effective beginning with a shorter and less expensive program and still obtain the needed result of restraining air pollution and eventually eliminating this problem completely."

Let Children Share Christmas

Sometimes the real spirit of Christmas is overlooked in the mad rush of shopping and preparation. Parents try to do everything to make Christmas fun for children. Too often the children sit on the sidelines with no part in the preliminary excitement. They just wait for Santa to come down the chimney on Christmas with lots of toys and presents.

A real Christmas observance is a time of joy and cheer for the warmth of being with loved ones and of sharing activities. To have real meaning, Miss Mary Todd, Palm Beach County Home Demonstration Agent, says the holiday season needs to be a happy spontaneous time with the whole family together — everyone occupied with the decorations, with making and arranging presents and with special festivities.

Children enjoy helping and sharing the activities more than just waiting around for gifts. Each youngster can be encouraged to prepare a little surprise for the others. Gifts do not require large expenditures of money. The most appreciated presents are ones that show thought and interest, rather than price tag.

To look forward only to receiving gifts is to keep the best of the Christmas spirit. Often we give children less than we do not expect enough of them. Miss Todd says parents worn out with Christmas preparations are often disappointed in how their efforts are not appreciated. The joy and satisfaction of Christmas comes more from
